PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Last week of term

Compliments, Complaints and Suggestions

Thinking you are doing well and actually doing well are not necessarily the same thing.

In 1948, Preston Tucker's independent car company produced the Tucker 48. It was a car with a design brief that included a water-cooled flat-6 rear engine made of aluminium, disc brakes, four-wheel independent suspension, fuel injection, ergonomic location of all instruments, seat belts (almost unheard of in 1948) and a padded dashboard.

Tucker's cars were engineering marvels.

Despite this and almost thanks to bad press (possibly supported by Detroit's Big Three, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler) and political interference (also possibly supported by Detroit's Big Three), Tucker's car company was a spectacular failure.

In these pages I have mentioned in the past the simple fact that we do not know what we do not know. We may think we are doing well, but there may be observations you have made that can assist us in lifting our game once we are aware.

The Department of Education provides means by which to move us from this position of ignorance when we are working with our parents, carers and the wider community.

I have included those means with this newsletter.

We work hard to create a school community that is safe, respectful and supports successful learning. We try to resolve issues as quickly as we can, so that our students can learn in an environment where families and teachers work together to achieve the best outcomes.

If you have a compliment, complaint or suggestion about any aspect of our school, please contact us. We value your feedback and are committed to dealing with issues thoroughly and fairly. You can also let us know if you have any suggestions or if you think we are doing something well.

You can make a complaint about:

- any aspect of the services we provide
- any decision, including those about enrolment
- any practice, policy or procedure, and
- staff behaviour or conduct.

Making a complaint

Most problems can be resolved by talking about them, so start by contacting your child's teacher, or by talking to school office staff, the Head Teacher of the faculty, or the Year Advisor. You can raise your complaint directly in person, by email, over the telephone or by letter if you prefer. Make an appointment to meet with the appropriate member of staff or phone the school and ask for an appointment. It helps us to resolve complaints if you are able to provide clear information about what happened and what you would like us to do, and if you are respectful and reasonable in the way you approach the situation.

For some matters, it may be appropriate to talk to a more senior person, such as a Deputy Principal or even the Principal. If you are not sure with whom it is you should raise your concerns, the school administration staff can provide you with the correct contact details.

To help us to resolve your complaint, we may ask you to put it in writing. You can also use our online form, which is on the Department of Education website. This widget is easy to use – by clicking on the sad face, smiley face or light bulb you can provide details of your complaint, compliment or suggestion, and your feedback will be sent to the right place for action.

You can also use our Complaints and compliments form (https://education.nsw.gov.au/media/c-and-e/complaints_and_compliments_form.pdf). You will need to print out this form, fill it in and submit it to the school.

What are the possible results of my complaint?

When responding to a complaint, we may do one or more of the following:

- take action to fix the matter or improve the situation
- provide an explanation
- acknowledge that the situation could have been handled better or differently undertake to review the department's policies in light of the complaint, or
- apologise.

Sometimes, we may not be able to change what has happened or the complaint manager will decide that the original decision was appropriate in the circumstances. Whatever the outcome, the complaint manager will give you clear reasons for their decision. This may be in a meeting, by telephone or by email.

More information?

- For more information about compliments, complaints and suggestions about schools, visit our Schools - guide for parents, carers and students or our Complaints Handling Policy and procedures.
- To make a complaint about a school principal or about a broader function of the department, you can use our online form on the Department of Education website, or email us at decinfo@det.nsw.edu.au.
- Department of Education employees can make a complaint about fellow employees through Employee performance and conduct \(staff only\).

Raising concerns with and making suggestions to us is so much more effective in having a matter addressed than keeping it to yourself or worse, delivering a blast on social media.

Until next term...

Wayne Eade
Principal

By the way, a 70 year-old Tucker 48, one of the survivors of the 51 produced, will set you back quite a bit these days. The last one to change hands did so for US$2,915,000 back in 2013.

That's AUD$3,789,292.18!

e-HEADSPACE

Link: <https://www.eheadspace.org.au/> eheadspace is a confidential, free and secure space where young people 12 - 25 or their family can chat, email or speak on the phone with a qualified youth mental health professional

Young people may contact us if they need advice, are worried about their mental health or are feeling isolated or alone. eheadspace can help with a broad range of issues like bullying, drug and alcohol issues, depression and anxiety, relationships, concerns about friends, fitting in and isolation. We also have experts who can provide work and study advice to young people and specialist support to parents and carers who are worried about a young person 12 -25. eheadspace is part of headspace, the National Youth Mental Health Foundation.

The banner features the eheadspace logo on the left, which consists of a stylized icon of three people and the word 'eheadspace' in green. To the right of the logo is a dark grey speech bubble containing the text 'eheadspace is a national online and telephone support service'. Further right is a green speech bubble with the text 'workers'. Below these elements is a photograph of a young man looking out over a body of water. On the right side of the banner, there is a green box with the text 'eheadspace.org.au', '1800 650 890', and '9am-1am AEST'.

eheadspace is a confidential, free* and secure space where a young person or their family can web chat, email or speak on the phone with a qualified youth mental health professional.

Who can access eheadspace?

eheadspace offers online and telephone mental health support to young people aged 12-25 years and their families or friends. Young people may contact eheadspace if they need advice, are worried about their mental health or are feeling isolated or alone. eheadspace is not a crisis service.

eheadspace email, web chat and phone support provides flexible ways for young people who don't have a headspace centre nearby or don't feel ready to visit a centre, to get the help they need.

eheadspace aims to provide improved access to support for young people who are known to be less likely to use traditional services such as young men, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Intersex (LGBTI), Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD), homeless, rural and remote young Australians.

What does eheadspace offer?

eheadspace is staffed by qualified youth mental health professionals who can help young people by exploring what is on their mind, what help is available and how they can build coping skills.

Depending on the needs of the young person, eheadspace may provide esupport or etherapy. Interventions offered will be based on assessment, formulation and shared decision making.

Registering with eheadspace

Young people or family members must register at www.eheadspace.org.au to use the online and email service. They can remain anonymous (full name is not required for registration), but they will need to provide a username and email address as registration is a two-step process requiring email verification. There will also be some information collected as part of the registration process such as age, sexuality, gender, postcode, education and other information to assist the eheadspace clinicians. Young people who make their first contact with eheadspace on the phone will be asked to provide the same information.

Referrals to eheadspace

Workers and teachers can provide referral information that may assist eheadspace clinicians to support a young person. To provide referral information or to negotiate a shared care arrangement call eheadspace on 0488 200 053.

It can be helpful to assist young people with the eheadspace registration process at eheadspace.org.au. Young people can send an email to eheadspace to schedule their first appointment.

Referrals from eheadspace eheadspace acknowledges that not all mental health problems can be appropriately addressed online. When this is the case, young people will be supported and encouraged to attend face to face services. eheadspace aims to make referrals and communication between eheadspace and other services as seamless as possible.

eheadspace will offer assisted referral, where young people are supported to access face to face services (including headspace centres) and will continue to support young people while they await an appointment or are in the process of engaging with a face to face service. An eheadspace clinician may stay involved and be part of the overall care plan for a young person, even if they have been referred to face to face services.

When young people accessing eheadspace already have face to face services in place, eheadspace aims to work collaboratively with these services.

High Expectations – a message to parents, carers and students

What does this mean for students?

One consistent finding of academic research is that high expectations are the most reliable driver of high student achievement.

So, students must have high expectations to achieve at their best. What does this look like?

Come to school every school day.

Have your supplies ready.

Keep your materials organised.

Pay attention in class.

Complete assignments on time.

Follow directions.

Ask for help when you need it.

Participate in class activities.

Follow all school rules.

Always do your best.

Avoid quiet disengagement.

Never opt out of learning. It is not OK to say “I don’t know.” You must ask for help. No ifs, no buts. Ask.

Set the highest standard of correctness possible in your work. Do not accept almost answers. Never confuse effort with mastery. You must work towards having the best possible correct answers.

The best test of whether students can consistently get answers right is whether they can explain how they arrived at their answer.

Students need to be prepared to give details in their answers to teachers... or ask for help.

preventing and stopping LEARNED HELPLESSNESS

You are not helpless. Never be afraid to ask, “How am I going?” or “How can I improve?”

Above all, the “high expectations” students will always be in control of their own learning.

Own Your Learning!

Before you say "I'm through," ask yourself:

- Did I do my best?
- Did I include everything that was required? Did I check the success criteria?
- Did I seek, listen to, accept, and use peer/teacher feedback?
- Is there anything I can improve?
- Is there a way for me to go above and beyond?
- Am I satisfied that this is the best I can do?

Student ID Cards - Mobile Wallet

Cards is a mobile wallet that keeps an individual's cards in one app.

Cards promises its users "a walletless life: The company also contends that Cards is more useful, safer and faster than having a wallet full of... cards.

Mudgee High is not suggesting you put ALL of your cards into the Cards app., but for students prone to "misplacing" their student ID cards, but never likely to lose track of their mobile phones, Cards allows them to sign in and out as easily as... producing their student ID cards.

From the company's site:
